

Learn how to create a priceless family heirloom.

Award winning filmmaker Walter Schlomann will share his expertise on creating a family video biography.

Walter will share insights on recording family history/stories, covering topics such as research and preparation, conducting the interview, incorporating photographs, documents, home movies; and how to create a video that is not only informative, but entertaining as well. Points of discussion include the role of stories and oral traditions in our families, the tricks memories play on us, and basic video production tips that will even come in handy the next time you record with your phone. Video excerpts will be screened.

Schlomann is an accomplished video editor, director and producer of independent films, documentaries, music videos and other video media who has delivered programs for PBS, TV Land, History Channel, Biography Channel, and Comedy Central, and collaborated on projects with Rock stars such as Michael Stipe and Cyndi Lauper. He has filmed helicopter action scenes in the Australian Outback, directed Scotty of Star Trek fame on a wild aerial ride through New York, and even worked with mermaids, crocs, and kangaroos. He has interviewed actors, artists, CEOs, physicians, scientists, veterans, educators, holocaust survivors, philanthropists, and entrepreneurs. He is the founder of Heritage Media Group (www.weconnectgenerations.com).
